rekoop sign Simmons & Simmons LLP

Simmons & Simmons LLP, a leading international law firm with particular expertise in the financial institutions, life sciences, energy and infrastructure and TMT sectors, is the latest law firm to select the time management solution provided by rekoop Ltd. Simmons & Simmons were looking for a fully-integrated desktop and mobile solution for time recording that would provide benefits to fee earners and clients - through the effective and efficient recording and monitoring of time.

Commenting on the product, David McLaughlin, Finance Director at Simmons & Simmons, said:

"We investigated and assessed a number of time-recording solutions that could meet our needs: rekoop offered a fresh and innovative approach to managing the accurate recording of time, without being intrusive. The product provides for the immediate and informative presentation of key metrics to individual fee earners and practice group managers. It helps to understand the levels of activity and manage resources more effectively, which will assist in the delivery of our long-term business strategy. We believe that it will improve our processes, help reduce costs, and lead to greater efficiency."

Simmons & Simmons is piloting the system in the early autumn, with plans to roll it out to all fee earners soon after.

"We are really proud to be working with Simmons & Simmons LLP. We have worked hard this year to finalise the core of our solution which is to automate the population of the time sheet and then provide real-time reporting via desktop, mobile, and tablet computing to enable firms to transform decision making. It is great that leading firms like Simmons & Simmons have acknowledged this approach and we look forward to creating long-term value with them." said Phil Wedgwood, Managing Director of rekoop Ltd.
